RESIDENTIAL CRUISE LINE TO OPEN SALES AND MARKETING OFFICE IN DUBAI
New Office Slated to Open October, 2008

September 18, 2008 – Phoenix, AZ – Randall B. Jackson, chief executive officer of Residential Cruise Line Ltd. (RCL) and builder of the Magellan – the world’s largest residential cruise ship, announces the Company has secured office space in the central and commercial district of Dubai at the Jumeriah Emirates Towers. Slated to open October, 2008, the office will house sales and marketing representatives looking to outreach to affluent expatriates and residents of the region.

Upon completion of the Dubai Maritime City, Residential Cruise Line plans to relocate the sales and marketing office to the urban corporate park which will serve as the international hub of maritime business.

“The Magellan is a ship for individuals from all cultures and backgrounds,” said Randall B. Jackson, chief executive officer. “With more than 200 nationalities calling Dubai home, it was a strategic, common sense decision for us to open an office in such a welcoming country.”

The Magellan offers full and fractional ownership of luxuriously appointed residences and penthouses as well as such unprecedented amenities as a full-service retractable marina, on-call private helicopters, a satellite broadcast capable theater and 24-hour on-call concierge service to name just a few.

Designed by the internationally acclaimed Norwegian firm of Peter Yarn and Bjorn Storbraaten Architects A.S., the Magellan will be one of the most lavish residential cruise ships ever built.

Private residences on the Magellan range in price from $2.82 million to $8 million for penthouses and from $300,000 for fractional ownership residences.
